Greetings from the Moonlit Path!

The air is crisp. The Holidays are over, but there is still something magical in the air. Couples are holding hands and snuggling together before a fireplace. Roses and chocolates are everywhere. Cupid's arrow is pointed at those who are looking for love. It's because of all this, the real darkness behind the season is unseen to the naked eye.

That is why we here at Tales from Moonlit Path have launched our Bloody Valentine's Issue - because the day after Valentine's is not all love and roses.

Read our selection of hauntingly romantic fiction here and poetry here.

The response and number of submissions we received for this issue was overwhelming, and we cannot thank you enough for all of your contributions!

We are now OPEN for story and poetry submissions for our Demented Mother's Day issue due to publish in May. Please be sure to check out our submission guidelines here and stay tuned for contest announcements coming by the end of March!

Also, if you have not already, give our social media pages a visit and a like! Following us will keep you up to date with all special announcements!

We love what we do and love doing it for you! Please feel free to make a contribution of any kind to help us keep doing it!
